

LET'S TALK PIE.

Ask your children about their favorite part of the Friends of the Wayland Public Library's Book and Bake Sale and you will most likely hear about the amazing cookies or brownies that they like to munch while sifting through the piles of wonderful books. Fresh baked breads, pies, and cakes make up an important part of the revenue of the Book and Bake Sale and the pleasure of it. Many of our faithful bakers have been making goodies to donate to the Friends for a dozen years.

Please consider baking a pie, cake, some cookies, or even a loaf of bread to donate to the Book and Bake Sale. It can be a project for you and your children or grandchildren. Just drop the baked good off during the sale hours on Saturday or Sunday, November 7th or 8th. It will be helpful if you label the goodie and list whether it contains any nuts. Every donation will be greatly appreciated and will make our sale a little more profitable and a lot sweeter.

We don't want to ignore the "Book" part of the Book and Bake Sale. Don't forget to drop off any and all donations in the bins downstairs at the library near the Children's Room.

And while we are on the topic of the Book and Bake Sale, the Friends would like to make a general appeal for volunteers to help out with the sale. We can use help setting up the Book and Bake Sale, straightening the books and acting as cashiers during the sale, and helping to break down the Raytheon Room after the sale. Anyone interested in helping, or in becoming involved with the Friends, please contact Gretchen Dresens at 651-8906. Thank You!

THE FALL BOOK AND BAKE SALE, November 6—8.

The amount of books that you have donated this summer and fall are unfathomable and because of that, this promises to be the most amazing Book and Bake Sale yet. The storage shed is literally bulging with books. Any type of book you can imagine, biographies, children's books, cook books, art books, the latest fiction best-sellers, language books, comic books, movies, videos, and music CDs—we have them all. Come early and often to the Book and Bake Sale to select your books and to top off your bag with a delicious baked good.

The sale will begin on Friday, November 6th as a preview night for members only from 6:00 p.m.—8:00 p.m. You can become a member of the Friends by picking up a brochure at the library, or by filling in the membership portion of this newsletter. The Friends presented the seventh Friends of the Wayland Public Library Award to Kennis Forte, Class of 2009. The award is presented to a Wayland High School senior who has demonstrated intellectual curiosity and a love of literature and reading. Congratulations, Kennis! * Celebrate National Friends of Libraries Week (October 18-24) by purchasing Library Note Cards either at the circulation desk or at The Depot. * The Spring Book and Bake Sale was a great success; many thanks to all the Wayland residents who donated books and baked goods that made the sale possible. * The Friends supported last year's Wayland Reads program, in which the town read Breakfast with Buddha. The program culminated in a discussion led by the author and was an overwhelming success! For those who would like to participate in the next Wayland Reads program, keep a lookout for the next town-wide book selection. * Hold the date open for the Holiday Open House at the library on December 8, 2009. Check the Wayland Public Library's Website for details. * This Friends Newsletter can be found at www.waylandlibrary.org.
